

Facebook security and safety. You can access Facebook's privacy page here - <http://www.facebook.com/policy.php> - There is a lot of information here about what kind of information is available to others that are not your friends.

One of the most important things to be aware of in Facebook is the Public Search option. If someone in your family has a Facebook page, Google the name and see what comes up. On the Google search page, look for the name next to Facebook and click on the link.

If your family member's facebook page comes up, someone needs to change the public search option. Open the Facebook page, go to ACCOUNT, then PRIVACY SETTINGS.

Click on the SEARCH link. The following page will come up.

Facebook search results is for people to search for others in Facebook. It can be set to allow only friends to search, friends of friends or everyone.

Public search allows people to search for you outside of Facebook.

If you do not want to be searched outside of Facebook, make sure this box is not selected.
